WELDEN SPRING WATER

Water from Welden Spring, St. Albans, Vermont, which has proved highly efficacious in Scrofula, Cancer, and all diseases of the skin, and also for Dyspepsia, Kidney and Liver Complaints, General Debility, &c., &c. is now for sale, at wholesale and retail, at 218 Washington Street, where books may be obtained containing an analysis of the Water, with certificates from Physicians and others, testifying to its beneficial effects in numerous cases where it has been tried.

DEAR SIR: I write to acknowledge the benefit I have received from the Welden Spring Water. I have been troubled with Disease of the Kidneys for many years. I have consulted some of the best Physicians in the country and received no relief. Some few months since I was recommended to try the Welden Spring Water. I had not taken it long before I was surprised to see how much good it had done me. Since then I always keep it in my room and take a few drops any other water, knowing eventually it will cure me. As I am anxious that others should be benefited by my experience, I cheerfully recommend it to all suffering with the same disease. Respectfully, J. J. MAY.

[From Francis B. Dixon, Esq., Counselor at Law and Average Adjuster, Boston.] 17 MERCHANTS EXCHANGE, Boston, October 3, 1868.

E. S. GOODWIN.

DEAR SIR: I cheerfully comply with your request to give my candid opinion of the merits of the Welden Spring Water. For some years I have suffered much from Dyspepsia, and having exhausted patent medicines and the prescriptions of many Physicians, I was advised to try the Welden Spring Water. I found by taking a glass of the water before meals it acts as a tonic and general regulator of the system, and enables me to eat any kind of food without inconvenience. The only evidence I can give of my appreciation of its virtues is a recommendation to every one suffering from Dyspepsia to try it. Yours truly, FRANK B. DIXON.

MESSAGE

OF President Johnson.

Fellow Citizens of the Senate and House of Representatives:

Upon the reassembling of Congress, it again becomes my duty to call your attention to the state of the Union, and its continued disorganized condition under the various laws which have been passed upon the subject of reconstruction. It may be safely assumed as an axiom in the government of the States, that the greatest outrages inflicted upon a people are caused by unjust and arbitrary legislation, or by the decrees of despotic rulers, and that the timely revocation of injurious and oppressive measures is the greatest good that can be conferred upon a nation. The legislator or ruler who has the wisdom and magnanimity to retrace his steps when convinced of error, will sooner or later be rewarded with the respect and gratitude of an intelligent and patriotic people. Our own history, although embracing a period of less than a century, affords abundant proof that the most if not all our domestic troubles are directly traceable to violations of the organic law and excessive legislation. The most striking illustrations of this fact are furnished by the enactments of the last three years upon the question of reconstruction. After a fair trial they have substantially failed and proved pernicious in their results, and there seems no good reason why they should longer remain upon the statute book. The States to which the Constitution guarantees a republican form of Government, have been reduced to military dependencies, in each of which the people have been subject to the arbitrary will of the commanding general. Although the Constitution requires that each State shall be represented in Congress, Virginia, Mississippi and Texas are yet excluded from the two Houses, and contrary to the express provisions of that instrument were denied participation in the recent election for a President and Vice-president of the United States. The attempt to place the white population under the domination of persons of color in the South has impaired, if not destroyed, the kindly relations that had previously existed between them, and mutual distrust has engendered a feeling of animosity, which, leading in many instances to collision and bloodshed, has prevented that co-operation between the two races so essential to the success of industrial enterprises in the Southern States. Nor have the inhabitants of those States alone suffered from the disturbed condition of affairs. A large outflow of men, labor, and the consequent want of prosperity throughout that portion of the country. The Federal Constitution the magna charta of American rights, under whose wise and salutary provisions we have successfully conducted all our domestic and foreign affairs, sustained ourselves in peace and in war, and became a great nation among the powers of the earth, must assuredly be now adequate to the settlement of question growing out of the civil war waged alone for its vindication. This great fact is made most manifest by the condition of the country. When Congress assembled in the month of December, 1865, civil strife had ceased. The spirit of rebellion had spent its entire force. In the Southern States the people had warmed into national life, and throughout the whole country a healthy reaction in public sentiment had been taken place.

By the application of the simple, yet effective provisions of the Constitution, the executive department, with the voluntary aid of the States, had brought the work of restoration as near completion as was within the scope of its authority, and the nation was encouraged by the prospect of an early and satisfactory adjustment of all its difficulties. Congress, however, intervened, and refusing to perfect the work so nearly consummated, declined to admit members from unrepresented States and adopted a series of measures which arrested the progress of restoration, frustrated all that had been successfully accomplished and after three years of agitation and strife, has left the country farther from the attainment of union and fraternal feeling than at the inception of the congressional plan of reconstruction.

It needs no argument to show that legislation which has produced so baneful consequences should be abrogated or else made to conform to the genuine principles of republican government.

By the influence of party passion and sectional prejudices, other acts have been passed not warranted by the constitution. Congress has already been made familiar with my views respecting "the tenure of office bill."

The
